

ML Strategies: Keystone XL, Energy Efficiency Heat Up in Congress

February 25, 2015 | Blog | By David Leiter

VIEWPOINT TOPICS

- Federal Government Relations
 - Energy & Sustainability
-

SERVICE AREAS

- Federal Government Relations
- Energy & Sustainability

Congress returns from the Presidents' Day recess, and energy and climate issues will heat up again this work period as Congress sends the Keystone XL pipeline legislation to President Obama, committees consider fiscal year 2016 spending requests, Senators Jeanne Shaheen (D-NH) and Rob Portman (R-OH) prepare to introduce a broad energy efficiency package, and the Federal Energy Regulatory Committee holds a workshop on the Clean Power Plan, all in the midst of a calendar filled with several other issues.

» Read this week's Energy & Environment Update.

Authors

David Leiter